

ForeverWeather.com

Site Plan

Site Description

The purpose of this planning document is to provide information and an outline for my weather site project. It will be used and turned to for guidance for the next seven weeks as the project is completed. It provides the basis of what will be given in the site.

Site Name

The website name will be “ForeverWeather.com” I checked on google domains and the name was available for only $12 per year. It is a website showing the weather.

Purpose Statement

The purpose of ForeverWeather.com is to provide a prediction of the future weather for a specific area given by the user. It will likely present the weather for the nine days to come.

Target Audience

The target audience for ForeverWeather.com is anyone seeking to know the weather of any location. Whether it's the location they are currently in or whether they just want to know what the weather is somewhere ForeverWeather.com is their go to.

Scenarios

What will the weather be like at the lake this weekend?

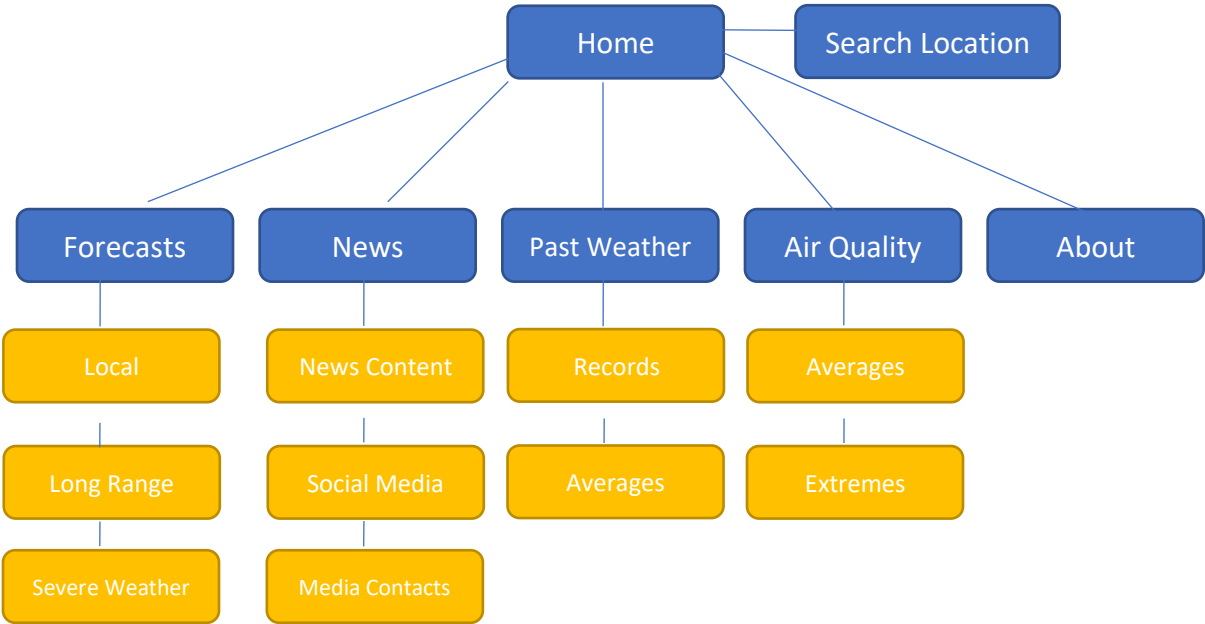

Is the other side of the world in the middle of summer like I am here?

What is the weather going to be like tomorrow?

Do I need to pack my rain boots for our camping trip this weekend?

If I park outside tonight will I have to scrape ice off my windshield in the morning?
